<section>
<h1>About me</h1>
Hello! My name is Harald hansen and this is my personal portfolio.
at this point in my career im studying applied computer science in oslo, at osl o met.
</section>

 I really love to play fotball and run. And thats usually what i do for the most part of my day. I have also taken a few jobs as a coach for the younger teams. There i have to communicate well, and cooperate with the other coaches.
</section>

```

```
 Oslo is a big city, and i love it. I get to experiance new cultures by food and meeting new people. My language skills have come in handy past the few years i've been living here. I talk Norwegian, english and spanish fluently

<h1>My passion nad hobbies</h1>
```

```
As i mentioned earlier i love to run and play football. I like those things because they give me a great sense of accomplishment
```

```
</section>
```

```
Something many people dont know about me is that i also like to play games on my pc. I prefer online teamgames. Im not a huge fan of offline solo games. Online competetive is a lot more rewarding for me.

<h1>My favorite qoutes from books</h1>
```

```
"My mama always said, 'Life was like a box of chocolates. You never know what you're gonna get.'" -Forrest.
```

```
 I really like this qoute because this is how the life is. Its a bit corny, but you can apply it to almost everything.

<h1>
    My portofolio:
</h1>
I have worked a lot during my education with designing websites and programming.
    The programs that I'm most familiar with is html, css and java. I have also experience with design, especially with logo design, as I have an example of down below. Digital marketing is something
    I have also worked on in the past.
<h2>Logo design project:</h2>

    This project is one of my favorite projects, and I have put both my heart and soul into this piece of art. The project was named "the healthy chair project", and ended up with being my most successful projects yet. in this logo design i have focused on keeping it simple and sticking with just the black and orange colors. the text and logo match the color scheme, which makes the logo pleasing to look at.

<h2>Website project:</h2>
<picture2>
```

```

</picture2>
```

  This is a website i have worked on for a long time and it turned out pretty good. I made this website for a company that was working with making camping products like a thermos and similar products. In the website i have added a header with the logo of the company along with their name and an interactive menu bar. I chose to put an image of a tent which makes the user of the website more intrigued and excited to continue exploring the website. The website also includes a footer.
```

```

```

```
<h2>Restaurant project:</h2>
```

```

```

```

```

```
This website is probaly the biggest project i have worked on. The project was a team project which is where my experience with negotiation and communication s kills are from.
```

```
The project required not only clear communication among the webdesigners but a lso between the designers and the buyers.
```

```
This was important when it comes to creating the ideal page for the buyer.
```

```

```

```
<h2>About the page</h2>

```
Before we started this assignment we sat down as a group and made a short s ketch of what we wanted the website to look like. We tried to decide what sema ntic tags we wanted to include in our website. Even though everyone on our gro up is fairly new to using HTML, we tried our best to include as many as possib le. We started with a header where we added our fictional characters name plus a menu bar. We then added a body to our website, where we wrote most of the c ontent. Here we included paragraphs and pictures.
```

```
We decided to make our website this way because it seemed the most simple way to structure our website, even though our code might seem a little messy.
